The apartment is centrally located within the Georgian heart of the city on the banks of the River Avon. It is part of a Grade II listed building and once formed the kitchens of Sir Joseph Huddart, a local businessman. All parts of the historic city are within walking distance.

Parts of the original flagstone flooring, beams and stonework have been restored to a very high standard to make the apartment the ideal choice for an enjoyable holiday or short break.

The apartment caters for two, is large, well furnished and has a fully fitted kitchen (laundry with washing machine), bathroom, double bedroom, lounge/diner with Freeview television. It has full gas central heating. There is also a delightful sunny garden for our guests to use.

Special visitor parking by permit is available in the street. Use of the permit is free of charge to our visitors. A deposit of £20 will be payable for this, refundable on your departure.

Well-behaved dogs are accepted by arrangement for a small additional charge.

All gas and electricity costs, as well as linen and towels, are included in the price.
